

Metropolitan cities like Banglore and Pelhi witnessed a 10% increase in land price.

Post-pandemic need for security has increased housing demand.

Steady growth in organic population, migration from rural areas have created an increase in housing demands.

Urban economy of India is develooping due to the rural people's migration.

For proper urban planning.

For providing affordable houses for all people.

For the formal settlement of SIUMS.

For maintraining a moderate housing price.

People will get a better knowledge about construction process.

Co-ownership or shared equality programs, where multiple people purchase a home together.

Better selection of housing land and construction.

Equal availability of houses for everyone.

The development of a metro can have a significant impact on real estate prices, particularly for commercial properties.

The Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana (PMAY) is a beneficial programme for Indian peoples.

The proximity to the bridge or corridor could be seen as a negative aspect of the property, leading to decreased demand and lower prices.

Difficulty in buying houses for people who are in below poverty line.

Does

